PATHWAYS TO INTERNATIONAL CAREERS

A PRESENTATION FOR STUDENTS INTERESTED IN CAREERS IN GOVERNMENT, BUSINESS AND INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

Wednesday, March 7, 2018, 4:30 – 5:45pm
Dane Smith Hall, ROOM 233

FEATURING DR. SHERRY MUELLER
Co-author of WORKING WORLD

Dr. Mueller, adjunct professor at the School of International Service at American University, will show students with a love for international activities how to pursue a successful international career. Dr. Mueller will discuss shaping a career in philosophy and identifying a cause, the art of networking, and finding volunteer, internship, and job opportunities in the fields of international education, exchange, and development.

THE PUBLIC IS INVITED TO ATTEND
Copies of Working World will be available for sale at the event.

Working World is a valuable resource to students, graduates interested in careers in international affairs, mid-career professionals who want to make a career change, as well as guidance counselors and career center specialists at universities.

For more information contact Ken Carpenter at carpenk@unm.edu

SPECIAL THANKS TO:
National Security Studies
Career Services
Bridges to Tajikistan

Published by Georgetown University Press, Washington, DC
www.press.georgetown.edu