

LAIS: Directed Reading Fall Semester 2017

As of 5 Sept 2017

A. S. Cochran

General Requirements

- CAPSTONE PROJECT - LAIS 409-004: Directed Readings/2 Credit Hours
  - Meeting times: Every Other Week; Either by meeting attendance or one-on-one conference; Can be fulfilled by e-mail
  - Must Be completed by end of Fall Semester for Nssp Certification
  - Topic: As approved by Project Director NLT 30 Sept

LAIS 409-004: Directed Readings

Capstone Assessment/Analysis Project National Security & Analysis (NSSA) Certificate

Capstone Requirements

- Complete field analysis or research project related to national security, strategic analysis or intelligence (2 credit hours reading course)
  - Analysis Paper based upon work in approved Internship
- OR
- Analysis paper based upon faculty directed or independent project

Capstone Analysis Paper

- Analysis of four articles to isolate key factors
- Method & Analysis Development
- Implications
- Key Judgments, Conclusions & Courses of Action
- Annotate Bibliography
- 3-5 Minute Oral Briefing

Requires Instructor Permission. Cannot Received NSSP Stipend

LAIS 409-004: Directed Readings

As of 9 September 2017

- Mckenna Johnson, “Graham Allison, Destined for War: Can America and China Escape Thucydides' Trap: Policy Analysis:
- Chandler Ballantine: TBD
- David Conway: “Research influences of economics upon war and how it can be used in future conflict prediction”
- James Boone: Unknown (see email with NSSP Director, 9 August 2017)